

Abstract

Sub B7

The invention concerns a stent, in particular a coronary stent, having a coating. The coronary stent according to the invention is distinguished in that the coating is of an irregular and in particular grid-like patterned configuration.